Weaving Women's Words

Collection

Description:

Jewish women across the country have helped shape and nurture their families, communities, and institutions, yet their contributions have often been overlooked. Weaving Women's Words, provides a collection of women's stories in their own voices with supporting documents to fill this gap. Born early in the twentieth century, and interviewed at the beginning of the 21st, our narrators lived through decades of political, social and economic upheaval, as well as dramatic changes in expectations for women and Jews.

Topics VJ, veejay, live, performance, visuals, video mixing, video art, Jeff Mission, V4, Kaoss Pad, Beatfix

Publisher Beatfix Studios

This piece was edited together after a night of experimenting in the studio with two cameras, an Edirol V4, and a Korg Kaoss Pad. One camera was pointed at my head; the other at my hands. All of the image composition was done live using the Kaoss Pad to control lumakey, mirror, colorize, posterize, and crossfading on the V4. Post-production consisted of editing together some of the more interesting bits and setting it to the sounds of "Pressure" by the Plump DJs.
